

Product: Where do I begin?

A product is something tangible that displays the culmination knowledge gained over the course of the project. A product is not a visual aid created solely for the presentation. A visual aid is created to support a speech. A product is only able to be created at the end of your investigation.

Differences in learning styles, interests and talents can be accommodated by differentiating the product(s) and/or performance(s) used as evidence of understanding and/or proficiency. The following lists offer possibilities.

Written	Oral	Visual
Advertisement	Audiotape	Advertisement
Biography	Conversation (taped)	Banner
Brochure	Debate	Cartoon
Collection	Discussion	Collage
Editorial	Dramatization	Computer graphic
Experiment record	Dramatic reading (taped)	Data display
Journal	Interview (taped)	Design
Lab reports	Radio script	Diagram
Lesson Plan	Poetry reading (taped)	Display
Magazine article	Podcast	Drawing
Newscast	Puppet show	Filmstrip
Newspaper article	Rap	Flyer
Play	Skit	Game
Poem	Speech	Graph
Script	Song	Map
Story	Teach a lesson	Model
Test		PowerPoint as Product , not just for board presentation
Web site		Photograph
		Questionnaire
		Painting
		Poster
		Scrapbook
		Sculpture
		Slide show
		Storyboard
		Videotape
		Web site

Name _____ Teacher _____ Per. _____

Product Information Form

My product is

Is it appropriate to bring to your board presentation?

Yes No

If you cannot bring your product to the board presentations, how will you show the board members and your culminating project teacher what you have created?

Date product completed: _____